

An historical pub crawl through Port Lincoln

1 Port Lincoln Hotel

Established possibly as the Squatters' Arms then Bricklayers' Arms and licensed in 1840 as the Port Lincoln Hotel; relocated to its current site in 2008.

Port Lincoln Hotel c.1860 [SLSA B-4691]

2 Great Northern Hotel

Licensed as the Northern Hotel from 1866 to 1926, then as the Great Northern.

Northern Hotel c.1860 [SLSA B-4691]

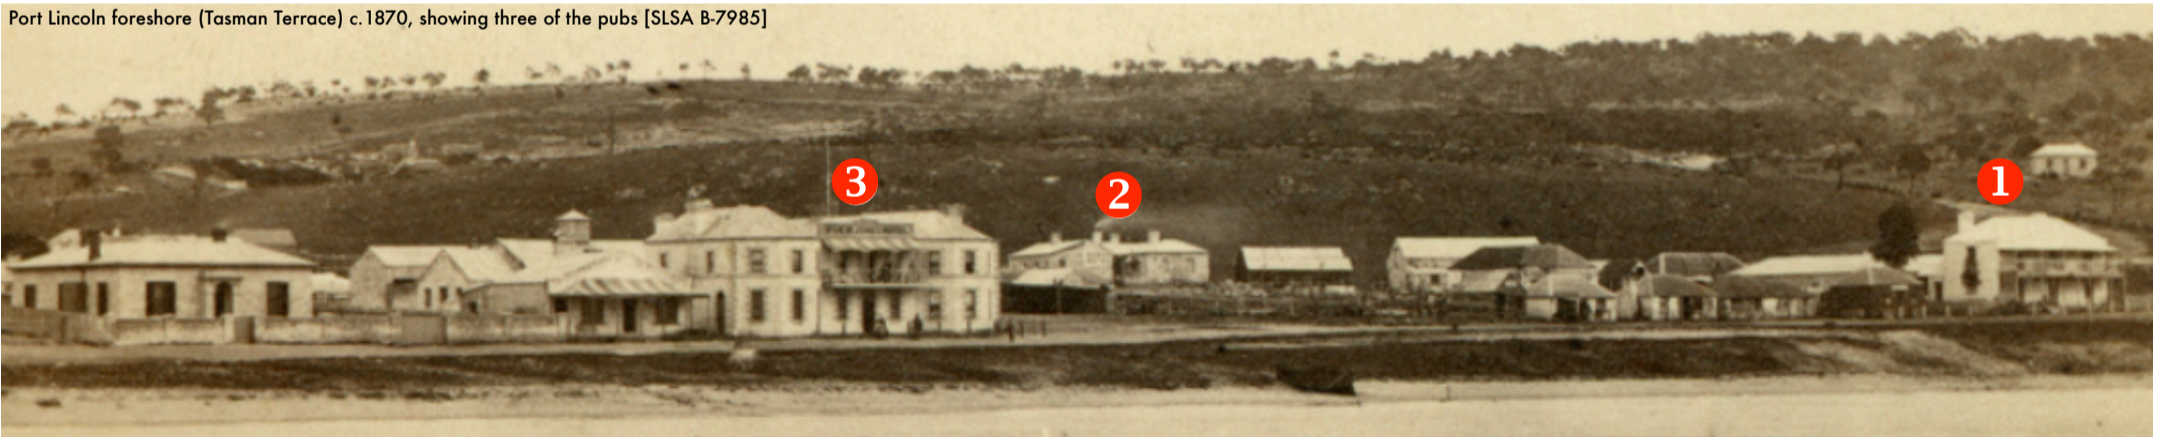

3 Pier Hotel

Possibly licensed as the Bee Hive, 1847-1852, as the Castle Inn, 1852-1864, and as the Pier Hotel since.

Pier Hotel c.1873 [SLSA PRG-458-1-1-59]

Port Lincoln foreshore (Tasman Terrace) c.1870, showing three of the pubs [SLSA B-7985]

4 Grand Tasman Hotel

First licensed in 1906 and known variously as the Grand, Grand Port and Tasman.

Grand Hotel c.1917 [SLSA PRG 559/3/14]

5 Hotel Boston

The best preserved 'heritage' pub in Port Lincoln; built and licensed in 1929 "to cater for the ever-increasing number of pleasure-seekers that make Port Lincoln their playground each year."

Hotel Boston 1936 [SLSA B-17160]

Other 'historic' pubs nearby

Lake Wangary: Travellers' Rest, 1859-1870, transferred to Lake Wangary Hotel, 1871-1933, now general store; Little Swamp: Sportsman's Arms, 1859-1926; North Shields: Wheatsheaf Inn/Hotel, 1868-.